"I became aware of hospice care when my grandmother (my father's mother) was in hospice care in Pennsylvania. I saw how it made her final days easier for her and the rest of the family. After my father became involved in Frederick Health Hospice, I decided to support Hospice myself. It was a great comfort to have my father at the Kline Hospice House for his final days."

Hospice Volunteers Continue to Give Back

While the first few months of 2020 were relatively normal, the onset of the pandemic brought public health restrictions that challenged our volunteers to find new ways of connecting with our patients. Our volunteers rose to the occasion by:

- ♥ Making masks for staff, patients/families, and the community.
- ♥ Making phone calls to patient, families, and the bereaved.
- ♥ Writing and sending notes and cards to patients, families, and field staff.
- ♥ Running errands for our patients and families.
- ♥ Doing administrative work from home.
- ♥ Organizing HosPet parades outside of congregant living facilities.

(Top) Volunteer Nicole Orr makes a socially distant visit to a patient's family.
(Bottom) Steeler continues to bring comfort and joy to families through socially distant visits.
